TAFT'S AMENDMENT

President Will Supervise Placing of Tax on Corporations.

CONFERENCE BE HELD TODAY

Will be Ready For Senate Thursday. Meets With Opposition—Will Cause General Debate—The Senate's Session.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, June 21.—President Taft will personally supervise putting the finishing touches upon the proposed amendment to the tariff bill providing for the imposition of a 2 per cent. tax upon the net earnings of corporations. This will be done tomorrow at the conference at the White House.

There will be present Attorney General Wickersham and Senator Root, who are drafting the amendment, Secretary of State Knox, and the Republican membership of the Senate finance committee. It is expected the perfected amendment will be ready for introduction in the Senate on Thursday.

The Attorney General and Mr. Root had a long session at the Capitol today and reached an agreement on practically every feature of the corporation tax plan. The portion which is giving them the greatest trouble relates to the government control of corporations necessary to carry the law into successful operation.

The amendment of the Senate committee on finance taking hides from the free list and restoring the Dingley law rate of 15 per cent. ad valorem was before the Senate all day, and it probably will not be disposed of before late tomorroy if then. Senator Warren, of Wyoming, and Senator Carter, of Montana, supported the provision and in vigorous language attacked the attitude of the free hide advocates, while Senator Page, of Vermont, defended the action of the House in placing hides on the free list.

Mr. Warren declared that the Senate had been insulted by the charge that the Dingley provision had been inserted as the result of a midnight conference, and he declared that free raw material would be the death knell of the protective policy if it should be adopted, while Mr. Carter asserted that if the farmers were to be compelled to sell their products in the open market they would demand the right to buy manufactured articles in the same kind of market. In support of free hides, Mr. Page contended that the adoption of such a policy would not injure the farmers while at the same time it would be of vast benefit to the leather manufacturers. He said the beef trust garnered all the profits in hides from whatever source.

CASES BEFORE RECORDER.

The Session Yesterday Morning of Short Duration.

The session of the Recorder's court yesterday morning was of short duration as there were only a few cases on the docket for trial and none of more than passing interest. The docket was unusually light for Monday morning. The case against Wm. Yopp, a young white man, and Alice Elkins, a negro girl, charged with an affray, continued from Saturday, came up for trial. The negress, who was represented by W. P. Mangum Turner, was discharged and Yopp was let off upon the payment of the costs. Clarence Howard, colored, was fined $5 and taxed with the costs in a case against him for exceeding the automobile speed limit on the night of June 11th. M. G. Silvia, a white man, charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct, was required to pay a fine of $5 and costs.

WARM WIRELETS.

President Taft entertained at dinner Sunday night, at the White House, all of the Republican members of the Senate Finance Committee and Senator Root. The corporation tax proposition was discussed and all agreed with the President who recommended it. The tax probably will apply only to earnings in excess of $5,000 a year.

Ten persons were killed and forty injured in a wreck on the Chicago, Lake Shore & South Bend Railroad in Porter county, Ind., Saturday night, two of the big electric cars colliding head-on. According to General Manager H. U. Wallace, the wreck was due to disobedience of orders by Motorman George A. Reed, of the east-bound car, who was killed.

At San Francisco, on Sunday, the jury in the case against Patrick Calhoun, of the United Railroads, charged with bribery, made a mistrial, the jury standing 10 for acquittal and two holding out for conviction. Judge Lawlor took occasion to severely criticise the laws and usages that made possible the time and expense of three months in empanelling this jury.

Oscar S. Strauss, ex-Secretary of Commerce and Labor, who was recently appointed American Ambassador to Turkey, is at the home of a relative in Washington city recovering from an operation for appendicitis that was performed Monday. His physician expects that Mr. Straus will be able to sail for Constantinople in two or three weeks.

On Sunday at Bilaziele's Crossing, nine miles east of Anderson, S. C., an inter-urban car of the Anderson Traction Company, collided with an automobile, pitching with its occupants 20 feet into the air. Of the automobile party Superintendent James H. Cobb, of the Belton Cotton Mills, was killed, Rev. D. D. Richardson, pastor of the Second Baptist church, Belton, was fatally injured, Rev. E. A. McDowell, field agent of the Baptist Courier, was seriously hurt and Mrs. D. D. Richardson slightly injured.

—Asheville, June 19.—Miss Bertha Lanford, who, whole driving with her mother and a small negro boy to the Avery Creek section of the county yesterday, was thrown from the buggy and badly injured, died at the Biltmore Hospital last night. Miss Lanford suffered a fracture of the skull at the base of the brain and the attending physicians at the hospital where the young woman was taken yesterday afternoon expressed the fear that the injury would result fatally. Mrs. Lanford and her daughter were on their way to Mrs. Landford's son's, where there is a very sick child. Miss Lanford was driving. In going down the long hill at what is known as "the four-mile branch" and over a stretch of macadam road, one of the shafts broke, the broken shaft jabbing the horse in the side and causing it to plunge forward and run away. Mrs. Lanford was thrown from the buggy first. She escaped injury. The negro boy, sitting in the back of the buggy, was next hurled out and also escaped injury. Miss Lanford, a short distance further, was thrown from the buggy and hurled against a rock.

ROBESON NEGRO COMMUTED

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 21.—Because Junius McKay refused to escape with other prisoners when they broke jail in Robeson county and on account of evidence not heard in the trial indicating a third party committed the murder, Governor Kitchin commutes to life imprisonment the death sentence against the prisoner who was to hang for killing Alex. McKay at Rowland.

The Murdered man was charged with being a "liquor spy" and was knocked in the head with a brick in an alley of the town. Commutation is recommended by all the jurors, the judge, prosecuting lawyers, their clients and many citizens.

Abner Paris, a former convict guard of Craven county, was committed to the penitentiary today to serve two years for shooting to death a convict attempting to escape. It is understood there will be a speedy movement for pardon.

The Corporation Commission issued an order today for the Seaboard Air Line, Southern and Atlantic Coast Line to join in the erection of a union station at Sanford commensurate with the town. There is no indication of the amount that the roads will be required to expend on the new station.

General Manager E. T. Lamb, Chairman Marsden Perry of the Board of Directors and General Counsel R. A. Braxton, of the Norfolk and Southern, spent the morning here in a very satisfactory conference with the Corporation Commission in regard to that road's affairs in general, giving notice that arrangements had just been completed with Vice President Andrews, of the Southern, and Coast Line officials to bring their trains into the new union station at Goldsboro beginning tomorrow. Joint use of the union station in Raleigh was also discussed and Mr. Lamb intimated his purpose to take this matter up very soon.

A sensation was stirred this morning by the arraignment of Alderman J. Sherwood Upchurch before Police Commissioner Stronach on the charge of cursing and creating a disturbance on the streets, the trouble having grown out of the invasion Upchurch made last Friday night of the caucus of the other members of the board. The witnesses were members of the board of aldermen. Joseph G. Brown, Edwar Peebles and George Womble. Neither of the three would swear that it was Upchurch cursing in front of the City Hall, so Justice Stronach dismissed the case with the statement that there seemed to be no real evidence against Upchurch who is known as the "belligerent" member of the board.

STRIKE IN GEORGIA

Members of Arbitration Committee Meet in Atlanta.

GRIEVANCES OF FIREMEN

Strikers Will Resist Restoration of Negro Firemen to Their Former Positions—Public Opinion to be Given Consideration.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Atlanta, Ga., June 21.—In his statement of the firemen's side of the controversy with the Georgia Railroad, before the arbitration committee, this afternoon, Attorney Reuben Arnold declared: "We are going to insist upon the arbitrators' taking into consideration the state of public opinion in this strike. I do not mean by that that the arbitrators are to be influenced in their decision by this state of public opinion, but I do say that this commission will have to take into consideration the state of the public mind in so far as it affects the safety of passengers or the safety of other employes of this railroad.

"We proposed to prove that the people of this State are so bitterly inflamed against the negro firemen that were you gentlemen to restore them to their position, or were the railroad under your decision to put them on the engines again, there would be violence and bloodshed and the lives of neither ewploye nor passenger would be safe. We will bring here the mayors of cities and others who have investigated and who know. They will tell you that the people of the State will not stand for the negroes in the cab and that if you try to force them there, there will be trouble."

"Are any negroes running now?" inquired Arbitrator Hardwick.

"Yes," said Arnold, "but only pending a decision by this commission and to get even this concession, Vice President Kelly had to go down the line and explain to the people that the restoration of the negro was only temporary."

The arbitrators were evidently impressed by this statement of Arnold. The attorney made it at the end of his summing up of the demands of the firemen. These demands number six.

1. The absolute discharge of all negro firemen.
2. Firemen must have three years' experience before being promoted to engineers.
3. All firemen when hired must be put in yards and on hostlers' jobs.
4. All hostlers must continue to receive present rate of pay.
5. Passengers, through freight and other desirable runs must not be blocked by non-promotable men (negroes.)
6. No fireman shall be required to flag crossings or throw switches at crossings, thus leaving engine with only one man at most dangerous points.

Arnold's argument was that the races will not mix; that the negro, made a fireman and never being made an engineer, gets the best run because he becomes the senior of white fireemn who cannot pass him because he is non-promotable, that to be a good engineer a fireman must know the runs and he cannot know them unless he gets a chance to fire on them.

The commission adjourned after Arnold concluded, until 10 A. M. tomorrow, when the firemen will begin their testimony. About 100 subpoenas were issued tonight for service in this and other towns on the Georgia railroad.

Judged by the returns at the baseball matinee at Struthers' and later press reports last night, the game between Wilson and Wilmington yesterday afternoon in the Tobacco town, was rather a "bonehead" exhibition of the National sport, the former winning by a score of three to two. The Sailors seem to have had dozens of chances to score but were apparently helpless to make the best out of the situation.

In the first inning, Johnson, late of Rocky Mount, who was given a chance at short, was out third to first, Nichols was safe on muff of rightfielder, stole second and took third on bad throw, but Brodie hit to short and Nichols was caught at the plate; Smith was then up and safe on error of second, Brodie on second, but Levy hit to short forcing Smith at second. Suitor, first up for Wilson, fanned, Cooper followed with a single past Sharp but was forced by Yerkes, who stole second but was thrown out at home on Miller's single to left.

In the second period, Sharp and Conn fanned while Jayes flew out to first. Bird, for Wilson, was out second to first; Armstrong singled to centre and stole second but was out trying to purloin third after Mills had fouled out to Smith. Armstrong hurt his leg sliding to third but went back to left.

Wysong, Johnson and Nichols fanned in succession for Wilmington, in the third and Wilson broke up the game in her half. Gilmore singled to left but was forced at second by Lane; Suitor was safe on error of short; Cooper flew out to third and with two down, Yerkes laced out a neat one to left and Lane and Suitor raced across the plate, Yerkes going to third on wild throw to second; Miller walked and took second on error of Wysong but Byrid fouled out to first.

Fourth—Brodie flew to short but was followed by Smith who laced the spheroid to left for three cushions and scored on Levy's hit out to pitcher; Sharp followed with a hit to left for an extra base but spoiled it trying to go to third. Wilson's fourth was a single by Armstrong to centre, Ferrell running for him and stealing second; Mills out second to first while Ferrell was out trying the home plate; Gilmore walked and Lane flew to short.

Fifth—Jayes and Conn flew to left and centre, Wysong out third to first. For Wilson Cooper hit to centre for two sacks after Suitor was out, second to first, but he was forced at third by Yerkes while Miller fouled out to first.

Sixth—Johnson fanned; Nichols safe on hit to second but was out trying to steal; Brodie flew to centre. For Wilson Bird was out short to first, Armstrong, second to first; Mills hit to right for two cushions but Gilmore fanned.

Seventh—Smith flew to centre; Levy singled to left; Sharp flew to short, Jayes walked but Conn was out pitcher to first. For Wilson Lane was out pitcher to first and Suitor and Cooper second to first.

In the eighth Kite batting for Wysong, flew to first; Johnson out second to first; Nichols singled to left and came home on a beautiful drive by Brodie to right for two bases; Smith left Brodie on the second corner, short to first. Howard replaced Wysong for Wilmington and Yerkes was out third to first; Miller caught Rube for a single to centre but was forced by Byrd; Armstrong singled to centre but Mills was out short to first. In the ninth Levy and Sharp fanned and Jayes flew to centre. Wilson didn't need any more. The following was received last night from Wilson:

Wilson, N. C., June 21.—In a slow game the Tobacconists defeated the Sailors here today and the features were the heavy hitting by Smith, Sharp, Brodie, Cooper, Miller and Armstrong, and the bone-headed playing by all, including His Honor, Mr. Umps.

LIBERTY POINT CELEBRATION

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fayetteville, N. C., June 21.—It is estimated that 10,000 people attended the Liberty Point celebration here. The crowds began to arrive on Sunday and this morning every train coming into Fayetteville was thronged while hundreds and hundreds came in by private conveyance from all parts of this and adjoining counties. The celebration has been a magnificent success in every way.

The band, drum corps and civic organizations were out early and with the veterans, one thousand in number, it is estimated that nearly three thousand were in line as early as 10 o'clock. The floral and other floats made a magnificent display and moved with the best of order under the direction of Capt. Jas. D. McNeill, the chief marshal and his aides, all of whom were mounted and clad in spotless white. The address of Judge Clark at Liberty Point was masterful and inspired the people here to such an extent that in future June 20th will be celebrated as Liberty Point Day. Over 1,200 visitors took dinner as the guests of the city and its civic organizations. The baseball game this afternoon, exhibition by the Fire Department, display of fireworks and a ball tonight provided great entertainment for each and every visitor.

Among the many beautiful floats in the parade the following were awarded prizes in the order named: John C. Gorham, Misses Haigh and Pemberton and Misses Anna and Bessie Maloney. The automobile race which was scheduled as one of the features of the day, had to be called off as it was found impossible to handle the dense crowds lining the roadway.

Daughter of Senator Bankhead Gives Her Good Character.

THE EVIDENCE CONFLICTING

Never Knew Her to be Intoxicated and She Was Always Modest in Her Language—Day For Plantiff.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 21.—Sensation seekers and the curious who have attended daily the sessions of the Gould suit were sadly disappointed at the resumption of the proceedings before Justice Dowling in the Supreme Court today when it was announced that the defence had rested and that Howard Gold would not take the stand. It had been expected that his direct testimony and his cross examination by Clarence J. Shearn, counsel for the plaintiff, would take two full days.

Mr. Shearn apparently was greatly surprised by the announcement that Mr. Gould would not testify. Gould himself seemed nervous and Mrs. Gould annoyed.

Mr. Shearn led off the rebuttal with testimony designed to show, he explained, "the falsity of the charge that Mrs. Gould was continually and habitually intoxicated from 1902 to the present date."

"Do you regard such evidence as necessary?" asked the court.

"Necessary or not," counsel of the plaintiff thereupon produced a stream of below-stairs witnesses whose testimony was followed by the reading of depositions of guests and friends who swore that Mrs. Gould never, to their knowledge, drank to excess and that she always was affable, reserved and modest in her language, testimony directly opposed to that the defendant's witnesses had given previously.

A deposition taken up by Mr. Shearn was that of Mrs. Alice S. Bankhead, of Atlanta, wife of Lieutenant Henry McCauley Bankhead, of Fort McPherson, who visited Mrs. Gould on numerous occasions, a son of Senator Bankhead, of Alabama. Mrs. Bankhead related in her deposition the incidents of a visit with Mrs. Gould as the latter's guests in Cairo, Egypt, in in 1902 when the party visited the Khedive's palace. The witness described Mrs. Gould's conduct on this occasion as "lady-like and above reproach." Mrs. Bankhead accompanied the Goulds' on their yacht from Cairo to Alexandria. Mrs. Gould's conduct was "perfect and beyond criticism" on that trip according to Mrs. Bankhead.

In the cross examination on her deposition, Mrs. Bankhead swore that she had never heard Mrs. Gould Spoken of as a "rinking woman." She said that Mrs. Gould had spoken to her but once about Dustin Farnum, the actor, and had then told her that their names were not "linked together, in an improper way."

OFF FOR WASHINGTON.

Eghty-nine Wilmingtonians Take Advantage of Low Rate.

Eighty-nine Wilmington people left yesterday morning and last night over the Atlantic Coast Line for Washington, taking advantage of the unusually low excursion rate to the Nation's capital and return. About 50 left on the morning train and the remainder of the number went on the night train. Coast Line officials stated last night that this is a much larger number than they expected from Wilmington. It was also stated that the indications were that a very large number went from all points where the special rate applied, though the exact figures were not obtainable last night.

The tickets are good to return as late as Thursday and a great many of the excursionists will remain in the capital city until that date. Many others will go farther North and return to Washington before the expiration of the limit of their tickets.

THE HOUSE FLY MUST GO.

We always did hate a fly—the pesky house fly—even if there has always appeared to be something festive about it. The fly is frisky and impudent and when you don't want him to light on your proboscis when you lean back in a cocker to steal a nap he seems to get reh gay. He appears to dodge your hand either in a spirit of humor, spite or malice, probably all combined, and goes right on with his business. That business seems to be to make himself a nuisance.

The mosquito has a more sneaking and vindictive character than the fly and both are not only pests, plagues and undesirables, but medical science has pronounced both of them deadly enemies to the human race. They are menaces to the health of millions of people and the doctors are satisfied, and so are we, that the earth is billowed with graves because of the disease carrying mosquito and fly. There is nothing ornamental about either and neither are useful, the theory that the fly did make himself useful as a scavenger having long since been exploded. His habits, customs, mode of life, his impertinence, impudence, peskiness, and hankering after filth make the fly "more low down er cuss" than the mosquito, and because both are nuisances around the house and menaces to the health of everybody with whom they came in contact, the word has gone out from the doctor scientist that these insects must be destroyed. They have been pronounced to be mankind's most dangerous foes. They seem to be in partnership, for, when let alone, they insist on taking the house, dividing time so that the fly carries out his designs and dirty work during the day while the mosquito does his evil deeds at night. Both scatter the germs of disease and medical science has proven it conclusively. The verdict of guilty has been rendered against these pests, and the sentence is death.

Several years ago war was declared against the mosquito, and the fact that the Federal health authorities practically have destroyed him in the Panama canal zone and made that a healthy region instead of a land of pestilence and death, demonstrates that by united effort, the people can also get rid of the house fly.

The United States health authorities have also declared war on the fly, and The Star is rejoiced that the division of entomology of the North Carolina State Department of Agriculture has joined in the fight. Let all the people, men, women and children, enlist in the war and swat and smite the fly wherever he breeds or squats. The idea is to exterminate him.

In order to emphasize the danger of the house fly and impress upon the people the absolute importance of cleaning out the fly breed, the North Carolina division of entomology sends out a circular, giving a history of the fly and laying down the plan of battle against him. We are told all about how the fly breeds, what he does and how he spends the Winter to show up again when warm weather returns. We leave out much that the circular says, but the following will be interesting and useful to people and they should follow out the instructions for the benefit of themselves and everybody else:

The house fly is admirably fitted as an agent to carry diseases. His body is thickly clothed with short hair, and his well known habit of feeding on filth as well as upon human food makes it an excellent carrier of germs from the one to the other. The diseases that it might carry in this way are many, but the insect is especially dangerous as a carrier of the various intestinal diseases, such as typhoid fever. It is a well established fact that a person who has contracted typhoid may emit the typoid disease germ for several weeks previous to the time that the disease becomes marked enough to be recognized, as well as for several weeks after all symptoms have disappeared and the patient is evidently cured. Now, a fly visiting the deposits of such a person, either to lay its eggs or to feed, is almost sure to gather some of these germs upon its feet and legs and fly away, often only a short distance to the kitchen, there to walk about over the food prepared or being prepared for the table. And wherever he goes he leaves behind him a track of deadly germs.

In New York City trap cages were placed in various localities about the city and careful counts of the adult flies taken were made each day. These counts showed the greatest prevalence of the house fly during the hottest part of midsummer, and when compared with the statistics of the time of contraction of all known cases of intestinal diseases, were found to agree almost perfectly. These diseases have long been known as hot weather diseases, and undoubtedly the hot weather does reduce the vitality of the patients, thus making them more susceptible to the disease. But that does not alter the fact that it is necessary for the germs to be carried from one person to another, and house flies have been proven beyond the shadow of a doubt to be active agents in carrying these germs. Counts of the number of germs on house flies have shown as high as 100,000 fecal bacteria on a single individual. It naturally follows that the greater the number of flies the greater the number of germs apt to be carried and the greater the number of persons that are apt to be infected.

In the same way the peculiar germ of tuberculosis (consumption) may be spread from one individual to another. The sputum ("spit") of a person with tuberculosis swarms with bacteria, and a fly crawling over this sputum entangles many germs among the hairs on its legs, only to fly away to some kitchen or dining room, spreading the germs wherever it goes and exposing persons to the danger of the disease.

The above methods are by no means the only way of spreading the diseases mentioned, but it seems quite evident that the house fly is more to blame than appears at first thought.

It is very hard to control the house fly, owing to its widespread abundance. The following considerations are given to the more practical remedies:

Screens—All windows and doors (especially those that are opened frequently) should be carefully screened. this applies with increasing force to all sick rooms, to kitchens where food is prepared, and to dining rooms where the food is eaten. Care should also be taken to see that odds and ends of food are not allowed to accumulate about kitchens, as these act as very powerful attracting agents to house flies. If all foods were kept stored in dark closets till ready to be used and all waste scraps removed at once, it would go a long way towards controlling this pest. People should insist also that meats and other foods in stores and markets be kept carefully screened from flies.

Sticky Fly Papers—In addition to screens on doors and windows, sticky fly papers should be used in the house. Sticky papers have their disadvantages, but they are at the present time our most effective method of controlling the house fly in houses that have been carefully screened.

Poison Papers—Poison papers are very effective, but they have the disadvantage, when used in the house, that the dead or dying flies are continually dropping in food and other undesirable places. Poison papers are best used, perhaps, as a supplement to sticky papers in such places as closed or partially closed porches where flies are apt to swarm. Poison paper can also be used to advantage in rooms than can be darkened and closed, if the poison bait is placed near a window or door which is not completely darkened. The flies are sure to be attracted to the light, hence they can be easily collected and burned when they die.

Traps—Formerly, various traps were used to a considerable extent. Traps are now scarcely ever used, owing largely to the fact that they are not completely successful and are somewhat cumbersome to handle, as well as the fact that it is troublesome to kill the flies after they are caught.

Fumigation—When flies become especially troublesome and abundant in a room, the room may be fumigated with pyrethum (Persian Insect Powder). The best method is to place the powder in a pan on a fairly hot stove. The stove should not be so hot that it causes the powder to burst into flame, for in that case much of the value is lost—but it should be hot enough to cause it to smoulder, in which case it will give off a dense whitish smoke poisonous to the flies but harmless to man The amount of powder used should be about one ounce to every one hundred cubic feet of air space in the room. Before the room is fumigated it should be made as tight as possible. If the fumigation is done in the evening, the room being left closed over night, the flies may be swept up in the morning and burned. It is not safe to assume that flies which have fallen to the floor are dead, because they are apt to revive if placed in the air, so the only safe thing to do is to collect and burn them.

Pyrethum loses its strength rapidly when exposed to the air, and for that reason only perfectly fresh powder or powder that has been carefull kept in tight receptacles should be used.

Prevention of Egg Laying—It is a pretty well established fact that house flies, while they may, and often do, breed in other substances, can be controlled almost completely by the proper handling of the horse manure in stables. The proper handling would mean but very little addition to the expense as compared with present methods. All stables should be cleaned at least twice a week—once a week would not be often enough, especially in midsummer, when the fly-breeding season is at its height. The floors of stables should be made smooth and hard, so that the manure can not only be forked out, but the floor thoroughly swept. After the floors are thoroughly cleaned, plenty of air-slaked lime should be sprinkled about the stalls to keep them dry. The manure should either be removed at once or placed in a dark room which is tightly screened. Flies will not breed in a dark place normally, and if the room is screened it offers practically no inducement for the female house fly to lay her eggs there.

Dr. Joseph Akerman, City Superintendent of Health, has taken up this matter of ridding Wilmington of flies as near as that possibly can be done, and the people of our city should earnestly and energetically co-operate with him. He will give instructions to all who make inquiry of him.

The circular issued by the State entomological division is for free distribution all over the State, and as it gives full directions for exterminating flies many would no doubt like to have it. Address for Entomological Circular No. 25, Franklin Sherman, Jr., State Entomologist, Raleigh, N. C.

HARRIMAN'S SOUTHERN INVASION.

The Star's telegrphic news last week confirmed the purchase of the Central of Georgia Railroad by the Harriman interests. By the new deal Mr. Harriman adds 1,900 miles of railway to his already enormous mileage extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico. The Harriman lines now permeate almost every quarter of the great American republic and his acquisition of the Central of Georgia shows that the great railroad magnate considers it worth while to tap the heart of the South. The port terminus of the main line of the newly acquired system is Savannah, Ga., and the Northern terminus is Chattanooga, Tenn., with auxiliary lines extending in several directions.

We must conclude that the entry of Harriman into Southern territory signifies two things—first, that the South is an inviting field for Mr. Harriman and his penetration of Southern territory emphasizes its importance; second, that the activities of Mr. Harriman in Southern territory means certain development of the South in keeping with the Harriman methods.

Altogether, it must be taken as a good sign when we see Harriman invading the South for business, and as to that the Chattanooga Times says:

"The transaction is significant of the growing importance of the South in commerce and industry for the reason that Mr. Harrimon does not enter either unprofitable or unpromising territory, and particularly important is it to Chattanooga. The Central of Georgia has its northern terminus in this city, and it is not likely that Mr. Harriman will long remain without connections of his own from Chattanooga into eastern and western markets. Already there is talk of locating shops for the southern system of the Illinois Central, of which the Central of Georgia will be a part, and Birmingham has already begun to hustle to secure the prize. There will later appear to be good reasons why Chattanooga may come in for favors of this kind. There are several serious rumors afloat touching the extension of the Illinois Central in which Chattanooga figures satisfactorily. The Georgia Central's terminals are among the best here, and there is a most promising outlook that we shall hear something highly interesting to this community before the "leaves begin to to fall.' Of one thing we may be sure, we shall lose nothing by becoming a central point for one of the Harriman lines."

We haven't noticed any effect that President Taft's influence has had in the direction of inducing his party to revise the tariff downward in accordance with Candidate Taft's campaign speeches. We overlook the fact, however, that Senator Aldrich is playing the part of the Republican party and is altogether susceptible to influences from other sources to which the Republican party is under deep and everlasting obligations for past favors.

The Winston-Salem Sentinel observes: "A politician in a Northern State recently committed suicide because he could not stand the criticism to which he was subjected. That fellow was prabably tired of living, anyway." Criticism only makes a North Carolina politician get gay. He certainly will never commit suicide under fire and give up chances for coming out on top at the wind-up.

Mr. Roger Burnham, of Pittsfield, Mass., on Sunday morning took his bride up in a balloon and they had an aerial honeymoon trip of 120 miles, landing at Holbrook, Mass. Of course, while they were up in the air they avoided falling out and if they don't "fall out" when they go to housekeeping they will have easy sailing tarough life.

Baltimore Sun: "The twenty-six letters of the alphabet can be arranged in 400,423,128,962,751,328,000,000 combinations." We refuse to figure on this proposition in order to dispute its correctness.

If President Taft vetoes the tariff bill it will convince Senator Aldrich that the President agrees with Senator Tillman that the tariff tinkers are the worst gang of buccaneers he ever saw.

Two Seattle thieves stole $20,000 and returned all of it but $5,000 as they did not need it. This is what we might term an effort at acting more decently than the tariff beneficiaries who keep all they get.

When Senator Aldrich goes to church it is hoped that the minister will not take for his text: "Think on Higher Things."

CURRENT COMMENT.

—The Greensboro Record's motion that Senator Simmons and Editor Daniels discontinue their squable until the proper times will meet with general approval. Both of them probably mean well, but their differences can do nobody any good.—Winston Salem Journal.

—It is glad news to Charlotte that the street railway people have completed arrangements for the two subways under railroad tracks which will obviate the necessity of Hosgins or Lakewood Park cars crossing the Southern Railway yards on West Trade street. This means, too, that the way is now open for an extension to the Catawba river. The Four C's—whose new Lakewood Park is one of the finiest in the South—continues doing great things for Charlotte.—Charlotte Observer.

—With the new tobacco factory being erected and stock being subscribed for a new cotton mill, Winston-Salem is certainly progressing. When it is considered that a number of local capitalists, including Mr. C. G. Hill, are associated with Mr. J. W. Cannon of Concord, the success of the enterprise is assured. Mr. Hill is an enterprising young business man and The Journal is glad that he is to devote his talents to an enterprise that will mean so much for this section.—Winston-Salem Journal.

——The New York American has asked Democratic State Chairman A. H. Eller, of Winston-Salem, for his opinion of the attitude of the people of this State toward the proposed income tax amendment to the Fderal constitution. His reply is to the effect that our people generally favor an income tax without apportionment, but that it should be accompanied by positive assurance of tariff reduction; also that as the State now levies an income tax, they will consider the relative necessities of State and nation and the just balancing of their respective powers. For these reasons he is in doubt whether the people will favor or oppose the proposed amendment.—Charlotte Observer.

—With the exception of a few shipping points throughout the strawberry belt of Eastern Carolina, including Mount Olive, the strawberry industry this season seems to have been a failure, both the growers and the Northern dealers having realized but little from the crop. While the outcome was partly attributable to the condition of the fruit, the chief cause for the losses seems to have been due to improper refrigeration, many of the reliable Northern receivers claiming that a quantity of the fruit reached its destination in "bad order." According to an editorial in the current issue of the Carolina Fruit and Truckers' Journal the trouble this season is directly due to the fact that the Truck and Fruit Growers' Association, because of a lack of funds with which to carry on the work this season as in the past, was unable to locate inspectors on the large markets to guard the interests of the shippers, and says that it is a genuine case of retribution. We are not in position to verify this statement, but we do say that the outcome of this season's business is enough to put every grower in Eastern Carolina to thinking, and that seriously. Such an industry cannot be successfully managed without the aid of some kind of an organization, and now that the Truck and Fruit Growers' Association has been practically crippled, if not destroyed, the growers must take the matter in hand and make some arrangements for such protection as the Association gave prior to this season. —Mount Olive Tribune.

GOV. GLENN'S DENIAL EVASIVE.

An Observer Notes That He Drifts With the Current.

Wilmington, N. C., June 19, 1909.
Editor Morning Star, City.

Dear Sir:—I doubt if anyone considers very seriously Mr. Glenn's evasive denial of the statement recently given out by the Washington correspondent of the Charlotte Observer, in which the former governer is put in the light of an aspirant for one of the seats in the United States Senate, now held by Messrs. Overman and Simmons.

That the former Governor's highest political ambition is a seat, representing this State in the highest branch of Congress, is evidenced by the fact that every political move in the State espoused by him, subsequent to his election as Governor, has been, as it were, with one eye upon the plum at Washington and the other upon the trend of public political sentiment, with the apparent intention of affiliating with each and every political move that would, seemingly, enhance his personal popularity. Shortly after being elected Governor, and for the apparent purpose of boosting his Senatorial candidacy, he made a kind of missionary tour of the State, eliciting for his trouble, however, the evident amusement of those who have sufficient intelligence to look beneath the veneering in order to ascertain the real motive actuating such unusual conduct on the part of a public officer of the State.

The next move for popularity, and the move which, perhaps, terminated his political precedence in the State, was a blow at our largest business interests, by rigidly enforcing, as far as possible, the confiscatory rate law from which, however, the railroads emerged victoriously, the people being the losers by the business depression consequent upon the rigid enforcement of such unjust legislation.

Having gotten no glory out of the rate law transaction, Mr. Glenn very quietly and serenely watched the progress of the prohibition movement in the State and, after the question had been pushed to success by its loyal supporters, he jumped in with the flow of the current, announcing himself leader of the cause. Just before the expiration of his term as Governor, he gave out the statement that he had under thoughtful consideration "the earnest solicitation of friends" to enter the race for Mr. Overman's seat in the United States Senate, but the adverse newspaper comment throughout the State, however, very promptly brought out the announcement of his retirement from politics.

Although I have nothing against Mr. Glenn's political record, nor the slightest desire to detract from him as a man of pronounced mental attainments, yet, as a staunch supporter of Democracy, I should feel it a great detriment to party interests in the State to substitute him for either of the gentlemen now so ably representing this State in the United States Senate. Both Messrs. Overman and Simmons are staunch Democrats of pronounced convictions, convictions which are known to every voter in the State, and which stand the test of time, although they may be at times out of accerd with temporary socialistic movements which spring up for consideration from time to time.

Yours truly,
W. T. JONES,
624 North Fourth street.

—If all the rumors that are now afloat materialize as to the new cotton mills that are soon to be erected in this State, we will be ahead of any place in the world in the manufacture of the fleecy staple. Almost every week we read that new companies are being organized to operate mills in this State. The Davie Record announces that a $75,000 mill will soon be erected at Mocksville, and it also states that New England capitalists are contemplating building a mill near Hickory that will employ between five and six thousand people. And speaking of rumors, it has been reported that the Dukes intend branching out into the cotton mill business, and are contemplating building a number of mills in this State, and probably one at Spartanburg, and that each one of their mills will cost a million dollars each. It is an old saying that where there is so much smoke there must be some fire, and we hope to see these mills fire up for business in the near future. It would give the farmers a better market for their cotton, would give employment to many thousand people, and would put hundreds of thousands of dollars into circulation in North Carolina.—Raleigh Caucasian.

The Piano Made to Stand the Southern Climate

THE chief enemy of a piano is climate, particularly the Southern climate, where extremes of temperature are so great and dampness so generally prevalent.

It soon plays rack and ruin with any piano not built to stand such conditions.

But here is a piano that does meet them—the

Mathushek Piano

Weather-proof from tuning pins to case. No matter how hot, cold, dry or damp the room may be, the Mathushek never loses its "pitch" or tone, because the tuning pins are so constructed as to always insure a uniformity of tension of the strings. The sounding board and case cannot warp, swell, crack or split.

These features, born of 40 years experience, make the Mathushek the piano for the South.

Style 20, shown here, is well worth $600. Its price is $450. Terms $25.00 down and as little thereafter as $10.00 a month. These are practically rental terms.

See it before buying any piano. 40,000 in use. Write for illustrated catalogue.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE ORTON

First Class Barber Shop and System of Baths Now Installed There.

After several weeks of hard work on the part of a large force of skilled workmen and the expenditure of several thousand dollars by Proprietor Jos. H. Hinton, the entire northern half of the front basement of The Orton has been handsomely fitted up with a first-class barber shop and system of public baths, which were thrown open yesterday for the first time and are eleciting much admiration from the traveling and resident public.

The parlor, for the place is too artistic to be known otherwise, is one of the handsomest in the State and is modernly and most expensively equipped throughout. The baths are both hot and cold water and shower, perfectly sanitary in every respect and a dream of beauty. There will also be a manicurists' parlor in charge of an expert lady who is expected to arrive on July 1st from Cincinnati, Ohio. The parlors are easily accessible by a flight of marble steps just north of the lobby from Front street. The floors and walls of the parlors are handsomely tiled and not a splinter of wood is to be seen anywhere, well matching the large French plate glass mirrors. To have a hair cut or shave or anything in that line will be a pleasure in the tonsorial parlors of The Orton.

The parlors will be in charge of Mr. Harry Pyle while the floor and the supervision of the seven chairs will be in charge of Mr. J. J. Quarles.

Only white barbers will be employed and these will be of the very best it is possible to secure in the North.

New Police Uniforms Received.

The handsome new Summer uniforms for the police department were received yesterday and will be worn by the city's finest tomorrow. The officers will wear ventilated straw caps, water and fire proof, while gray helmets will be worn by the privates. The uniforms are a little different from those formerly worn in that service stripes on the coat sleeve will denote the number of years the wearer has been employed in the police department, the time dating from the passing of the fusion reign. Gilt braid bands are used on officers' coats and white braid bands on the coats of the privates. One stripe denotes five years of service and two stripes ten years of service. There are not more than two bands on any one coat, it having been just a little over ten years since the fusion days.

HAD NO PARTICULAR CHOICE

Held "Option" on the Affections of Two Pretty Young Maidens—In Dilemma for Many Weeks, Probably—Decision.

Mr. J. H. Hobbs, a weaver in the Delgado Mills, who secured a marriage license on the 1st of May to wed Miss Annie M. Gurganious, of Ivanhoe, Pender county, later returning the papers with the statement that the young lady in the case was free to marry anyone else she desired and requested that the information be published, was granted another license late Saturday afternoon, the lady in the case this time being Miss Ellen C. Faulk, daughter of Mrs. H. Faulk, of Delgado, and it is understood that the ceremony was performed in Wilmington Sunday morning.

On the 1st of May Mr. Hobbs secured from Register of Deeds Haar a license to marry the young lady from Pender county, and the ceremony was to take place at once. In a day or two the prospective bridegroom went to the Court House and returned the papers, stating that there had been a miscarriage of his plans. He requested that Mr. Haar have it published that the young lady was no longer under any obligations to him and that she was at liberty to marry anyone she pleased. He did not seem to be disheartened in the least, but said laughingly that he had another that would probably suit him as well. He pressed his suit with the other lady and the marriage Sunday was the culmination of the affair.

CHILDREN'S DAY EXERCISES.

Pleasing Programme at First Baptist Church Sunday Afternoon.

At the First Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock the annual Children's Day exercises of the pupils of the Sunday School were held and largely attended. The programme was an attractive one and was carried out in splendid manner, many saying the event surpassed any of the kind ever given by the school. The main auditorium, which was used for the occasion, was appropriately decorated. The decorations were designed by Mesdames C. J. Kelloway, W. G. Webb and Chas. Blomme.

Mill-End Sale

The mightiest money-saving event on our store calendar. Thousands of dollars worth of factory remnants and odds and ends to be distributed at shattered prices.

An event of almost limitless saving possibilities and bargain benefit. An all-eclipsing cost-ignoring sacrifice of fresh and reliable merchandise. A carnage of prices and carnival of values.

This Widely Famous Sale Begins Monday, June 21st and Continues Six Days

To explain—if explanation be necessary—the "why" of the Mill End Sale. It may be termed the Broom of the Manufacturer. Periodically he sweeps clean his store room of vast accumulations of remnants, of short lots, of surpluses and odds and ends. The live merchant catches his share of these sweepings and pays practically his own price for them. In turn, he distributes them at prices lower than their actual cost to manufacture.

We share with you the loss the manufacturer gladly bears to rid his stocks of goods which MUST BE MOVED.

There's the cause of the Mill End Sale. The results are very incompletely told in the almost unbelievable sale values printed on this page. They are but as a drop in the bucket. Every department of the Store has its full share of them. There are thousands of them—quite beyond description—but all as wonderful as those listed here.

CONGRESSIONAL RUMORS.

It is an interesting political situation that is being framed up in the Sixth Congressional District with reference to the nomination a year hence. Already it has been announced that Hon. Henry Lilly Cook, of Cumberland, Col. Geo. L. Morton, of New Hanover, and Mr. A. J. McKinnon, of Robeson, would most probably be in the running with Mr. Godwin next time and a gentleman who has just returned from up the Seaboard Air Line says that the friends of Hon. O. L. Clark, of Bladen, are urging him to make the race. In speaking of the situation in the State and the Sixth in particular, the Charlotte Observer of yesterday says editorially:

"Representative Godwin, who is serving his second term, will be given a "run for his money" for the nomination. It has become an almost invariable rule in the sixth district that a man should serve only two terms—an extremely bad precedent to establish—and Mr. Godwin will have this to contend against, although he has made a good Representative. He has labored diligently in behalf of his constituents, especially those of the rural districts, and has accomplished much. He will have several opponents, the most dangerous among whom will be Mr. Herbert McClammy, a prominent member of the Wilmington bar, who will be apt to make an aggressive campaign for the nomination."

GOOD WOMAN PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Mary Carroll, of Lake Waccamaw, Died Yesterday Morning.

The death of Mrs. Mary Christian Carroll, relict of Mr. Nicholas Carroll, which occurred at her home in Lake Waccamaw, at 6:15 o'clock yesterday morning following a lingering illness of six months, was a great shock to her many friends here and elsewhere. The funeral services will be conducted from the late home in Lake Waccamaw at 11:30 o'clock this morning by Rev. Edward Wootten, of this city, and the interment will be in Oakdale cemetery, the remains arriving here on the 1:25 o'clock train this afternoon.

The deceased was 79 years old and is survived by one son, Mr. J. D. Carroll, of Spencer, and one daughter, Miss Lizzie Carroll, of Lake Waccamaw. For 25 years or more the deceased conducted a hotel at Lake Waccamaw and was well known and highly esteemed by all who knew her. Mrs. Carroll was one of the best women who ever resided in Columbus county and in her death the bereaved ones have the sympathy of a great many friends throughout the county. Prior to her residence at Lake Waccamaw Mrs. Carroll conducted a hotel at Mars Bluff, S. C., and had many friends in South Carolina who will be pained to learn of her death. The deceased was a devoted member of the Episcopal Church for more than 60 years and she will be greatly missed in the Lake Waccamaw congregation.

THE MARION SEASIDE HOME.

Appreciation of the Institution by a Grateful Wilmington Parent.

The Star is glad to publish the following to a gentleman prominently connected with the work of the Marion Seaside Home at Wrightsville Beach:

"Wilmington, N. C., June 1st.

"Dear Sir:—As the Marion Seaside Home for Children is about to begin another season of helpfulness towards helpless little ones, I wish to state our experience with the hope that the Home may benefit others as much as it has our little Elizabeth.

"We took her there last Summer, when it was simply a last resort, and if she had not gone we feel assured that she would not have lived through the hot weather, but as the result of the careful attention of the nursing staff of the Home and the skilful and kindly treatment of the physician in charge, she was spared to us and is now as fat and saucy as any baby.

"In conclusion I beg to state that my wife and myself will always have a very tender feeling for the Marion Seaside Home and wish it a long and prosperous continuance of its noble work. Respectfully yours,

"J. E. SHANNON."

North Carolina Textile School.

The Textile School of the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts has a complete equipment of machinery for instruction in Cotton Manufacturing. Young men who enter this school are taught to operate the different machines and to make all the calculations necessary to produce yarns and fabrics.

A completely equipped dye-house has been added to the school, and a thoroughly practical course in dyeing is now given.

Another interesting fact is that knitting machinery has been added to the equipment. The knitting industry is becoming very important in North Carolina, and the addition of this machinery to the textile school is very timely and makes this school one of the best equipped in America.

Last year and again this year the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers awarded the Students' Medal to this school, which is the only Southern school to receive it. This association is composed of the leading mill men in America.

The school is under the direction of Thomas Nelson, who has had considerable mill and textile experience in England and America.

SEABOARD IMPROVEMENTS

Work Gegun on Two Large Storage Warehouses Yesterday—Ready For Use by Fall—Dredging Work Progressing.

Actual work was commenced yesterday on the two large storage warehouses to be constructed by the Seaboard Air Line on their property on the upper Cape Fear river, with the driving of piling for the foundation by the Diamond Steamboat & Wrecking Company, these two buildings being a portion of the improvements to be made at a cost of $200,000.

The new buildings will be the same size, 420x90 feet, and a million and a half feet of lumber will be used in building them. The preliminary work, including the building of the foundation, will require some 3,000 piling.

For some time past the dredge "Vim" of the Maryland Dredging & Contracting Company has been actively used in digging out the slip, which will be located directly between the two warehouses and will be 120 feet wide and 24 feet deep, thus enabling it to float any vessel that enters the Wilmington harbor.

A large force of workmen at present is engaged in removing and tearing away three old buildings to give space for the improvements. The greater portion of this work is completed and two of the buildings which have been moved some distance from the wharf on Seaboard property will be remodelled for use. Those who have charge of the work believe that the new warehouses will be ready by next Fall.

The dredging is about half completed. Each one of the new warehouses will have a track on each side and will be fitted up with conveyors and machinery for handling cargoes from ships.

The work is being carried on rapidly and those in charge are pleased with the progress being made. The principal contract for all the improvements is held by Messrs. W. R. Bonsal & Company. Mr. J. H. Koonce, assistant engineer in the employ of the Seaboard Air Line, is directing the work.

When all improvements proposed by the company are completed the terminal will be one of the best and most modern that the Seaboard owns and will afford unsurpassed facilities as a terminal point.

LUMINA CONCERT PLEASES

Orchestra Rendered Fine Programme Sunday—Another Today.

The concerts by the Lumina Orchestra Sunday at Wrightsville were attended by the largest crowd of the season and the well rendered programmes proved most delightful.

Director Kneisel deserves much credit for arranging such an excellent programme, the opening number in the evening being "Echoes from the Metropolitan Opera House," which was much enjoyed and each selection given hearty applause. "A Day in Acadia," a descriptive number which depicts life in Acadia, was rendered delightfully and greatly pleased. In this number several mechanical devices were brought into use by Mr. Peifer, the drummer, chief among them being a large locomotive bell. Mr. Kneisel played Handel's "Largo," as a violin solo and judging from the applause given it was the most attractive number on the programme. He responded to an encore with a very pretty little "Romance in D," by Slome.

This afternoon at 4:45 o'clock the orchestra will give another concert. On Friday Mr. Kneisel has promised a Lincke programme when all the selections will be by the celebrated composer, Paul Lincke. On Sunday evening the orchestra will play, "A Trip to Buffalo," another descriptive number.

IMPORTANT INSPECTION TRIP

Prominent Wilmington and Fayetteville Citizens on Cruise Down the Cape Fear River—Deeper Channel Proposition.

A significant cruise down the Cape Fear river from Fayetteville to Wilmington, which may give the deeper waterways proposition a decided impetus, is being made on the government steamer Mercur by Captain Earl I Brown, in charge of the United States Engineer's office for this district with headquarters in Wilmington; Chief Justice Walter Clark, of the North Carolina Supreme Court, and Major E. J. Hale, editor of the Fayetteville Observer and one of the most prominent citizens of the upper Cape Fear section. Mr. James H. Chadbourn, president of the North Carolina Waterways Commission, was invited to join the party, but was unable to go to Fayetteville.

Captain Brown and Justice Clark were in Fayetteville to attend the big celebration held there yesterday and were due to leave Fayetteville on the trip down the river late in the afternoon. The trip will be made slowly in order that the members of the party may make a thorough inspection of the stream at different points. The boat is expected to arrive here some time today.

There has been a movement on foot since 1902 to secure an average depth of eight feet between Wilmington and Fayetteville and those interested in the matter believe that they will get what they want sooner or later. It will require an expenditure of between $300,000 and $400,000 which the government has been asked to appropriate for the work. At first an appropriation of $1,350,000 was asked for but this amount was later reduced. During the past few years snags and other obstructions have been removed from the river in order that the existing depth might be maintained.

MARRIAGE THIS MORNING.

Miss Esther Alexander to Wed Mr. D. L. Palmer Today.

At the home of the bride-elect's father, Mr. W. F. Alexander, 812 Princess street, at 8 o'clock this morning, Miss Esther M. Alexander, an attractive and popular young lady, will be united in marriage to Mr. D. L. Palmer, of Lewes, Delaware, for which place the happy couple will leave on the 9 o'clock train. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, and will be witnessed by only a few relatives and friends of the parties. The home has been attractively decorated for the happy event. The wedding march will be played by Miss Lillian Andrews.

The announcement of the marriage will come as quite a surprise to the friends of the young people, both of whom are very popular with a wide circle of friends.

Mr. Palmer is a mechanical draughtsman in Lewes, Del., where the young couple will make their home in the future. The best wishes of a great many friends will go with the bride to her new home.

Before Justice Bornemann.

Two cases were tried before Justice Bornemann yesterday morning. Honney Johnson, colored, was tried on a peace warrant sworn out by Olive McIver, colored. It appeared to the court that the prosecutor was the aggressor and she was required to pay the costs. L. Clayton Grant, Esq., represented the defendant. John Franklin, a 14-year-old colored youth, charged with throwing cold water on John Hankins, colored, while he was asleep at the City Livery stables Saturday, was let off upon payment of costs.

Purchased by Mr. Melvin Horne.

Mr. D. L. T. Capps has disposed of his cigar and tobaco, refreshment and pool rooms at 121 and 123 Princess street to Mr. Melvin Horne, who assumed charge of the business yesterday. Everything is new and up-to-date and Mr. Capps bespeaks for the new proprietor the same liberal patronage which has always been accorded to him by his friends and the public at large.

Store Robbed Sunday Night.

The store of H. W. Konig, 901 North Fourth street, was entered some time Sunday night, entrance being effected through the back door. The money drawer was broken open and 35 or 40 cents, all that the drawer contained, was taken. Nothing else was missed. There is no clue to the identity of the robber.

The principal feature of the evening will be a one-act comedy. "The Mouse Trap." The public is invited and an admission of 10 cents will be charged.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Monroe, June 19.—A cotton gin situated about two miles north of here and belonging to Mr. G. O. Fulenwider, of this city, was burned this morning. The loss is estimated at $600. The property was insured for a small amount.

—Charlotte Observer: The Queen & Crescent Railroad considers the business of Charlotte and vicinity sufficiently important to demand special attention and has as a consequence sent Mr. W. M. Orr to this point to look after the commercial interests of the road. Mr. Orr will have an office at No. 11 South Tryon street.

—Belmont, June 20.—A young man, Martin Lineisen, employed as assistan cook in the kitchen of St. Mary's College, was accidentally drowned this afternoon while bathing in the Catawba river. Young Lineisen had been been in the German army and was said to be inexpert swimmer. Last November he arrived from Germany and this was the first time he entered the Catawba to enjoy a swim. His disposition was a very happy one and he was well liked by the officials. Though over a hundred people gathered at the scene of the disaster body has not yet been recovered, and likely will not be for some days, as it seems to have been swallowed by a whirlpool.

—Fayetteville Index: Do you know that twenty-eight passenger trains either enter or leave Fayetteville every twenty-four hours? Do you know that in addition to these trains there are eight others that enter or leave Hope Mills daily—only six miles away? Do you know that you can leave Fayetteville in the morning, after a good night's rest, and go to Raleigh, Durham, Greensboro, Columbia, Charleston, Wilmington, Goldsboro, Norfolk or Richond, or any intermediate point, spend several hours and return to Fayetteville before midnight? Do you know that twice a week you have the chance to go by steamboat from Fayetteville to Wilmington, and that for rest and comfort especially in summer, there is no more delightful trip in North Carolina?

—Winston-Salem, June 18—The project for a cotton mill here, headed by Mr. J. W. Cannon, of Concord, associated with Winston-salem capitalists, is practially assumed. It is reported that $125,000 will be the paid-in capital stock to start with. Mr. Cannon's interest in the enterprise is gratifying to business men of the Twin City, as there is no better cotton mill executive in the South than he. It is understood that Mr. Charles G. Hill, secretary and treasurer of the Oakland Manufacturing Company, one of the most successful furniture factories in the South; ex-Judge Henry R. Starbuck and other prominent local capitalists are interested in the enterprise, the success of which is guaranteed by the personnel of its backers.

—Taylorsville, June 20.—At the Connelly & Teague veneering plant, near Taylorsville. Mr. Joseph Chatham, aged 88 years, was run over and killed yesterday while he was walking along the track ahead of the train. Mr. Chatham had been partially deaf for a number of years and did not hear either the engineer's whistle, which was repeatedly blown, or the calls of the workmen engaged in the veneering mill, who saw the old man's perilous plight and shouted words of warning. When the engineer observed that Mr. Chatham did not turn his head or make any sign of being aware of his predicament, he closed the throttle and threw on the emergency brakes, but to no avail. The train could not be stopped in time and the old man, who was a Confederate soldier, and highly regarded by his neighbors, was killed.

—Charlotte Observer: Mr. Louis Phillips, publisher of The Southern Druggist, has recently came to Charlotte from Atlanta and will make this place his home in the future. The Southern Druggist is a publication well known throughout the entire South. It will in future be known as a Charlotte publication and will be printed by The Observer Printing House. Mr. Phillips came to Charlotte because it has a central location and because this place is a centre in the drug business, and also as a result of the wide advertising which Charlotte is getting through the medium of the Greater Charlotte Club. The office of The Southern Druggist is on the tenth floor of the Ralty biulding, where a branch of The Insurance Herald, of Atlanta, will also be maintained. Mr. B. Frank Kauffman, the genial representative of the American Laundry Machine Company, who has been making his headquarters in Greensboro, has moved his family to Charlotte and will make his future home at No. 318 East Seventh street. Mr. Kauffman has made the change because of the Charlotte spirit, which is being fostered by the Greater Charlotte Club.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 21.—The cotton market was only moderately active today but prices ruled generaly firmer on the wet weather reported in the Eastern and Central belts over Sunday and the close was steady at a net advance of 6 to 12 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 4 to 10 points with the active positions selling 9 to 13 points net higher during the first few minutes on covering by local professionals who had taken the short side for a turn toward the end of last week and some fresh buying encouraged by the steady cables and the wet weather report. As the demand had subsided, however, it was seen that bull support was not aggressive and that commission houses were selling out long contracts above 10.95 for the new crop months. These offerings checked the upward movement in spite of many private reports of unfavorable crop conditions—particularly from the Mississippi Valley—and during the middle session the market sold off 5 or 6 points from the top under realizing. Offerings were withdrawn at the decline, while bull support was renewed and during the late trading the market rallied to about the best prices of the day with the close only a point or so off top.

Some few reports are coming from Eastern and Central sections indicating that unfavorable crop accounts are much exaggerated and that the outlook is not promising. Meanwhile domestic trade continues to improve and private cables reported today said that there was a better feeling in Liverpool as a result of diminishing stocks at Manchester. Southern spot markets officially reported early were unchanged to 1-8c higher.

Receipts at the ports today 8,639 bales against 9,128 last week and 8,431 last year; for the week 35,000 bales, against 33,540 last week and 43,423 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 2,147 bales, against 3,463 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet, 5 points higher; middling uplands 11.45; middling gulf 11.70; no sales. Futures opened and closed steady.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 21.—The opening prices on men's wear for Spring 1910 was made during the day by a large wool concern and at the highest known in years. Business already tendered has been large. The cotton goods market is strong, but generally quiet on spot transactions. Cotton yarns are quiet and firm.

MARKET GOSSIP.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 21.—It took several hours of waiting tactics on the part of the professional element among the operators in stocks to demonstrate today their satisfaction that the sharp fall in prices last week had not attracted any demand sufficient to form a basis for a renewed upturn in prices.

Efforts were perceptible in one or two quarters to inaugurate a rise in prices, but the handful of stocks selected were almost along in the movement which was feeble and ineffective. HeHavy individual selling orders appeared first in one stock and then in another. The bears still found effective material for influencing sentiment in the fears of bad effects to follow the failure to secure admission for the United States Steel also carried the impression of liquidation of some important individual accounts. Amalgamated Copper also proved acutely weak and the over-speculation abroad in coppers left the reactionary tendency there still in force.

The progress of the decline brought out added effort on the part of bears shown by their raiding tactics and by the circulation of unfounded rumors. One of these was to the effect that E. H. Harriman had suffered a sudden and fatal seizure in Vienna. This rumor proved extremely effective, notwithstanding the prompt discredit upon it by Union Pacific officials. The sharp rallies which followed the successive drops were evidence of the part played by short selling in the market. This rule did not, however, lead to the final break in which the Harriman stocks played the principal part, the selling movement being in active progress when the trading ended. A rally of a point in Southern Pacific was the only notable indication of a check to the movement.

Foreign exchange rose strongly to within a few points of the highest point of the season.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales par value 4,354,000. United States 4s, the 3s coupon and the 4s registered declined 1-4 and the 4s coupon 1-2 per cent. on call. Total sales of stocks today 849,400 shares.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Chicago, June 21.—The declining tendency of wheat was effectively checked and prices scored gains of more than one cent today owing to unfavorable weather for harvesting in the southwest and to a "greenbug" scare in the oats market. At the close prices showed net advances of 1 1-8 to 1 1-2 to 1 5-8., Corn and oats also made substantial gains, but provisions were weak.

Women Who Are Envied.

Those attractive women who are lovely in face form and temper are the envy of many, who might be like them. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation or Kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. For all such, Electric Bitters work wonders. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion. Many charming women owe their health and beauty to them. 50c at R. R. Bellamy's.

Mr. Nichols made a couple of nicks in the hit list with his little swat-stick, and they do say in touring from the initial sack clean home on Brodie's two-bagger he was running like a Republican National candidate.

Capt. Dick handed the spheroid a salubrious whack for three stations, and Brodie piloted a double into right garden, yet with all of this, and a few more safeties, the Sailors could only chalk up those two runs.

Now for a little Smithy work. In trying out new men for positions why do we always hit upon pariahs and the discards of other teams in the league. If they don't make good with the others, they certainly can't set the world afire in a Wilmington uniform. Think it over.

The dopist inadvertently in Sunday's issue neglected to hurl a few well-deserved ecomiums at the head of Brumfeld, Raleigh's premier short-stop as per his intention. Not only is the young man lightning on his feet in pulling down and picking up everything threatening his own immediate territory, but cruises all around behind third and the short outfield copping every ball straying around, and the way he whips them over to 1st—well, just watch him on the job yourself. Take it from us he's about the best that has ever worked out in this league.

It is rather difficult to figure up the club batting with anything like accuracy from the official figures given elsewhere, as the compilation necessitates the average record of only nine men for some teams, fourteen for others, etc. But computed as close as possible from the official list, it would appear that Fayetteville is leading both in club batting and fielding with an average of .210 and .951 respectively. Orie Brodie is still high gun in the individual batting with a percentage of .340, followed by Galvin, of Fayetteville with .333, Doak, of Goldsboro, .328, Bird, of Wilson, .324.

CONTRACT FOR FIRE UNIFORMS.

Commission Opened Bids Yesterday Afternoon at City Hall—Caps.

The Police and Fire Commission, Chairman W. E. Springer and Messrs. French and Woolvin in attendance, met yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the City Hall and opened bids for firemen's uniforms and caps, awarding the contract to the lowest bidder, J. W. H. Fuchs, at $13.50 per suit of coat and trousers, uniforms to be made by the well known firm of D. Klein & Bro. of Philadelphia, from 16-oz. Oswego serge as per sample submitted.

There were four other bidders, Messrs. A. Shrier, O. E. Meritt, A. David Co., and J. M. Solky & Co., and the competition was keen. All these bidders also submitted proposals for the firemen's caps and caps for the officers of the police department, but the contract was captured by Ed N. Penny & Co., Inc., at $13.50 per dozen for the officers and $12.75 per dozen for the men, the caps to be of standard fire department manufacture of a light straw composition, fire and water proof. There will be 37 of the caps for the firemen and six for officers of the police department.

DANCE FOR MASONS

Arranged For Thursday Night at Lumina—Follows Installation.

The Tidewater Power Company has arranged for a Masonic Souvenir Dance at Lumina on Thursday night which will follow the joint public installation of the officers of the three lodges of the city. The event promises to be one of the prettiest and most enjoyable of the season and will doubtless be participated in by a large number. In another column of today's paper will be found a clever cut announcing the event which is designed by Mr. E. C. Hudson, who has already made a reputation for that kind of work.

Two Able Discourses.

Dr. Lee Davis Lodge, president of Limestone College, Gaffney, S. C., occupied the pulpit at the First Baptist church Sunday, both morning and evening, and was heard by large and attentive congregations. Dr. Lodge is a deep thinker and interesting speaker and his discourses were very ably delivered. He arrived in the city Saturday and was the guest of his brother-in-law, Herbert McClammy, Esq., and will return this afternoon. Mrs. Lodge, who has been here for some time, will remain for a few weeks yet.

A Thrilling Rescue.

How Bert R. Lean, of Cheny, Wash. was saved from a frightful death is a story to thrill the world. "A hard cold," he writes, "brought on a desperate lung trouble that baffled an expert doctor here. Then I paid $10 to $15 a visit to a lung specialist in Spokane, who did not help me. Then I went to California, but without benefit. At last I used Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me and now I am as well as ever." For Lung Trouble, Bronchitis, Coughs and Colds, Asthma, Croup and Whooping Cough its supreme. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

'Twixt Optimist and Pessimist,
The difference is droll.
The Optimist sees the doughnut,
The Pessimist sees the hole.

Some would say the best way to turn an optimist into a pessimist would be to feed him the doughnuts, and this would be true if the doughnuts are fried in lard. Lard is certainly indigestible and many people are deprived of the pleasure of eating doughnuts and other dainties just because of this fact. However, there is a cooking fat—COTTOLENE—which can be used in any way and every way that lard can, and yet makes light, rich, delicious food that the most delicate stomach can digest with ease. COTTOLENE is making the world cheerier and brighter for thousands who were formerly suffering from the curse of lard-soaked food.
